Van and Gene Want a Lover's Lane

Todd Overlooks Important Campus Detail

Dr. Todd, in all his planning and laying out of the new college campus, has overlooked one important detail; and it looks like the student body will be deprived of it unless united action is begun immediately. Many of the students have been voicing the opinion that the campus will be incomplete without a lover's lane. Up to within the last few weeks there has been nothing said concerning such a promenade as part of the campus, but spring has sprung and, as usual, the young man's fancies turn to such things that have given rise to comment of late upon the apparent negligence of the designers of the campus.

Something has got to be done about it. There's got to be a shady lane or this campus will never be ideal; it will never be complete until there is a winding pathway abun-

Same Question Is Debated in All Engagements; Unique Timing System.

By Franklin Manning

The dual debate held Saturday evening, April 4, at Jones Hall and at Willamette University upon the supreme court question was won by Willamette by a two to one decision in both cases.

Chester Blesen and Allison Wetmore argued the negative of the question at Willamette. Bronson Smith and Harold Nelson upheld the affirmative at C. P. S. The Willamette team which traveled to C. P. S. was composed of Mr. Berryman and Mr. Redding. Dean Henry presided at the local debate. Although Bronson Smith and Harold Nelson lacked the punch that characterized the speeches of their opponents, their work showed thought and preparation that would do credit to any college debate.

Friday evening, April 3, Smith and Nelson met a team from Lawrence College, Wisconsin in a no-decision debate upon the Supreme Court question.

The question debated was, Resolved: that congress shall be empowered by a two-thirds vote to re-enact legislation declared unconstitutional by the Supreme Court.

A unique system of timing was adopted at these debates. The four constructive speeches were fifteen minutes in length. The rebuttal speeches were 4, 5, 6, 7, and 3 minutes in length respectively, with the affirmative having the first, third and fifth rebuttal speech, and the negative the second and fourth.

JAP QUESTION SUBJECT OF WOMEN'S DEBATES

The women's debate teams of the College of Puget Sound met Albany College last night in a dual debate upon the question resolved, that Japanese be allowed to enter the United States on the same quota basis as the immigrants from other countries. The team debating at home took the affirmative side of the question and was represented by Mildred Hawksworth and Dorothy Wallace. The Touring team made up of Billy Grace Ross and Mary Ellen Painter, chaperoned by Mrs. Register, upheld the negative of the question at Albany College, Oregon. Results of the debate held on the local platform will be found in the boxed article in column three.

This morning the Puget Sound Women's team was debating the same question against the women's team of Linfield College.

dantly shaded with shrubbery and trees. Here, Van and (?) have to walk back and forth in the hot sun on the board walk leading to the gymnasium. Ed. Amende and, and, and—guess—have to do the same. Likewise Neil McDougall and companion, and Gene McCune and friend; and all the others that make up the twos.

Professor Hanawalt and Company should be employed this campus day—to survey and lay out a lover's lane. The only expense the administration will be put to will be to buy shrubbery that grows fairly high and spreads out—the kind that gives forth plenty of shade and seclusion. Wright's Park is too far away, say all of the affected ones. Think of all the romances that will probably be blighted unless there is a lover's lane incorporated in the plans of the campus.

DEBATE RESULTS

The Puget Sound Women's debating team won by a popular decision of 13 to 5 over the Willamette University Women's team, in the local college auditorium, last night. Miss Dorothy Wallace and Miss Mildred Hawksworth composed the winning team. Miss Clara Wilford and Miss Mildred McIntosh represented Willamette. The debate was one of the best held this year in Jones Hall. Miss Mary Ellen Painter and Miss Billy Grace Ross debated at Willamette but no results of that debate had been received when the Trail forms were locked up.

ANNUAL GLEE WILL BE ON SATURDAY, APRIL 25

The Annual Glee will be held on the evening of Saturday, April 25, in the college auditorium. This event is in the form of a contest and is held in the spring of every year. At this time each class puts forth its best efforts to out-do the other classes in writing and singing a new college song. The one chosen as the best is used as a regular college song; and the class winning has its numeral placed upon the Annual Glee pennant. The Annual Glee also consists of an oratorical contest. There will be four oratorical numbers this year, and they are to be given by Billy Ross, Harold Nelson, Franklin Manning, and Helen Olsen. The program will alternate with first a song and then an oration. The winners in the two departments will be decided upon by a group of judges.

CAMPUS TO BE MOST BEAUTIFUL

College of Puget Sound Campus Will Be Most Attractive in Northwest

By Dorothy Mae Getty

The College of Puget Sound campus, when completed will rank among the most attractive from the viewpoint of beauty.

The driveway around the main quadrangle in front of Jones Hall is to be of concrete, while the quadrangle itself, as well as the parking around the driveway and the ground will be lawns of the greenest grass. The brick wall out in front is to be topped off with a stone fence to match the railing of the steps.

The plan for the campus is from the landscape department of the Washington Nursery Company of Toppenish, Washington. Besides flowers and shrubbery will be included the following list of trees:

Four holly trees, two erect form Lawson cypress, four European white birch, two native (coast) Dogwood, two Lombardy poplar, sixteen American elm, eight English elm, four black walnut, two dwarf magnolia-soulangians, and four Irish Juniper.

The grass seed has already been sown and every one is warned to keep off the grass "in its infancy." It is expected that by commencement the campus will look as unique as it does beautiful and will be one in which each and every student, as well as faculty members will take a great pride.

LAST MINUTE SPORT NEWS

The Loggers play the Union Mills team of Olympia this afternoon on the College diamond. The Union Mills team won the city championship of Olympia last year and claim to have another pennant winning team. Charles Lyman, ex. University of Washington star, will twirl for the Olympia nine. Game starts at 3:30.

Word has just been received from the athletic office that the Loggers will meet the University of Idaho baseball team here on May 1; and the Loggers are definitely scheduled to play Pacific Bearcats here on May 4.

LOGGERS TACKLE
A STRONG OUTFIT
IN ARMY NINE

LOGGER LINE-UP NOT SURE

"Horse" Blevins May Pitch Opening Innings of the Game Tomorrow.

By Dale Ginn

(Sport Editor)

The Puget Sound Loggers will travel to Camp Lewis and play the strong Army team. Little of a definite nature is known concerning the soldier's outfit, but judging from the teams of previous years, the Loggers will be bumping up against a tough proposition. The game will be played tomorrow afternoon on the Camp Lewis grounds, and it is hoped that as many of the College fans as can will accompany the team on its trip.

The Logger's lineup is not definite in two or three positions. Inkey Hagness and Dale Ginn will both make the trip but which one will start the game at shortstop, only McNeal knows. Both men are pretty evenly matched. Hagness is the more experienced of the two and is a good worker at the bat. Ginn is a new man on the College team, and in the practice game last Tuesday was a little nervous. He was over anxious and was throwing the ball high on his pegs to first and third. He is quick though, and it is hoped he will feel at ease if played in tomorrow's game.

Harry Enoch is making an earnest effort to erase a technicality that seems to be hanging over his head and keeping him off the squad so far. He wants to play in Saturday's game and if Mac puts him in it will mean a rearrangement of the outfield. Mike Thorniley is now playing Harry's position at center-field, and it may mean that Leak and Falkoner will figure in a shake-up.

The other jobs will undoubtedly be taken care of by those who have been playing them to date: Weston Aldrich, catcher; Eddie Schwarz, first base; Maynard Peterson, second base; and Pete Carl, third base. Bruce Blevins looks to be slated to start the game in the mound, and if the game turns to be much sided in favor of the collegians Sherrick, Guest, or Waller may get a chance. Elman, Beckman, Samuelson, and Goulard, all have a very good chance of getting into an inning or two if the game progresses favorably.

ELLENSBURG NORMAL

Word comes from the Ellensburg Normal School that a move is on to award members of the debate team sweaters instead of the customary gold pins.

The proposition was put forth at a recent student body assembly. The plan was debated for a long time and was finally referred to a committee which should first determine which of the school activities are major and which are minor. If debate is determined by the committee to be a major activity then it is probable that definite action will be taken to secure sweaters for the debate letter winners. The College of Puget Sound and many other institution still award the gold letter pin. Some larger colleges award a felt letter of Old English design to forensic letter winners.

MONDAY ELECTION

Next Monday noon there will be an election of representatives to central board for next year. This is extremely important as it is of vital interest to every class and organization that is represented on the central board of the Associated Student Body. Representatives will be elected at the noon hour in the auditorium on next Monday. It is known that among other candidates Franklin Manning will be nominated as representative from the Sophomore Class, Dick Jones from the Junior Class, and Harold Wade from the Senior Class. Be out and see that your man is elected to this supreme council of the student body.

Glee Club Books Concerts;
Sing for Radio Next Wed.

By Leo Durkee

Members of the Men's Glee Club and of the Glee Club Orchestra are looking forward with great expectancy to the future concerts which they are preparing to give.

Trips to Shelton and Montesano are almost assured the Club, and on next Wednesday, April 22, the Club will sing over the radio. The date for a home concert has not been set as yet. The personnel of the College Quartet has constantly been changing due to the ineligibility of many of the singers. As it now is Coach McNeal is singing first tenor, Merrill Ginn, second tenor, Mike Thorniley, baritone, and Ralph Brown, second bass. Clinton Hart and Preston Wright, members of the quartet of two years ago that made such a hit, are in school but on account of work have been unable to spare the time to help out either the quartet or the Glee Club.

Dr. Todd Works to Complete Campaign

Rockefeller Foundation Has Extended Time of Collections to Five Years

By George Butler

The faithful and untiring efforts of Dr. Todd have in the past achieved many successes for Puget Sound. Students are now looking forward to the success of the present program for raising $125,000 to meet the requirements of the challenge of the Rockefeller Foundation two years ago.

Eleven years ago James J. Hill made a challenge of $50,000 if the College would raise $200,000; this campaign was finished in 1915 and the final settlement was made in 1920. This total of one quarter million was to go to endowment.

In 1920 a campaign was put on in Tacoma and Pierce County for the raising of $500,000 for the buildings. This was done with the understanding Puget Sound Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church would put on a movement to raise $500,000 more for endowment. (Continued on page 4)

Gymnasium to Be Scene of Carnival; Short One-Act Play Will Be Given.

By Preston Wright
(Editor Frosh Edition)

The best is saved for the last. In other words, the Frosh Carnival to be held tonight in the gymnasium will be the biggest and grandest affair ever attempted by any Freshman Class. It will be the capping-off of a day filled with many events for students of the College. Today a strenuous program is being carried out as part of this Campus Day. Tennis courts are being built, brush cleared away, and cleaning up in general about the campus. And in the evening, the biggest thing of all—the Frosh Carnival.

This is the day of the Frosh. The Freshman Class soundly drubbed the Sophs last fall in the annual scrap. The Class of '28 reigns supreme upon the cinderpath by virtue of its most deciding victory in the inter-class track meet. A Frosh debate team was the only one to win a judge's decision for the College of Puget Sound this year. The Frosh have now edited an issue of the Trail; and tonight the '28ers show what real entertaining is.

If a student misses the Carnival tonight he misses one of the most amusing and entertaining evenings ever put on on the campus of Puget Sound. Tonight's the night. Tonight it happens.

"Sis" Brewitt, chairman of the Carnival committee announces the following program for the evening: Fortune Telling, Raymond Smith. Kissing Booth, Aileen Somers. Japanese Tea Room, Margaret Scofield. Zoo, Ed. Ernst. Nut House, Otis Smith. Chance Booth, Florence Bronson. Fire Department, LeRoy Brown.

Still (?)—Alvin Baily. Candy Booth, Vera Blix. Hot Dog, Leona Messenger. Strong Man, Franklin Manning. Mystery Man, Ronald Boyles. Tight Rope Walker, Alden Tronson.

History Booth. Barber Shop. Three Shots at the Nigger Baby, Molly Jacobson. Eskimo Booth, Dorothy Mae Getty.

Invitation, Verna McCauley. Construction, Ronald Boyles. Men of Affairs, Torry Smith, Harry Thorson.

Orchestra, Leo Durkee. Underworld, Theo Misener. The Very Naked Boy, Rosemary Widman.

Police Court, George Durkee. Decoration, Teddy Short. Every one is urged to bring a goodly quantity of pennies.

Freshman Class Wins Class Track Meet

Wins 31 Counters Out of a Possible 45

The Freshman Class reigns supreme upon the cinder path. And, by copying off the inter-class track meet, the Frosh may be called the fastest class in college. The Frosh won the meet with 31 points out of a possible 45. The Seniors, thanks to Captain Ted Upton, garnered 10 points and second place; and the Sophomores tucked away all of 4 counters, thanks to Lorin Lindstrom. The Junior Class won the big 0.

Mark White, a Frosh who hails from over Yakima way, lead the field with three first places, accounting for 15 of the Freshmen's points. The other men who scored for the Frosh were Edson Brown with 6 points, Sam Pugh 5, Tony Arntson 4, and Franklin Manning 1.

Out of this group the Puget Sound track team will be fashioned. There are two other men from the championship relay team of two years ago in college at this time, who, if out would help make another winning combination with Upton and White, work and ineligibility makes this impossible. Don Wellman is employed after school, and Bob Weisel is not eligible for participation. Edson Brown who scored 6 points in the interclass meet is also ineligible.

GAY IN PARTIES AND AFFAIRS OF VARIOUS SORTS, THE EASTER VACATION HAS BEEN DISTINCTLY A SOCIAL SUCCESS

By Aileen Somers
(Society Editor)

Thursday, April 9th, the Delta Kappa Phi men and their guests motored to Canyon Lodge at La Grande, Wn., where they enjoyed a banquet and a musical program. A trip of inspection to the power plant was a novel feature of the evening. Twenty-one couples were present. Professors Budd and Topping and Dr. and Mrs. Gammon chaperoning the party.

The Friday of April 3rd, many Sigma Zeta men and their friends enjoyed an evening at the Park Studio. A special attraction of the evening was the Nathan Lynn Orchestra, whose entertainment was greatly enjoyed. Miss Mary Heldmar and Mr. and Mrs. Hunt chaperoned the affair.

Miss Beatrice Whalgren entertained the Delta Gamma sorority last Saturday afternoon at tea. The rooms were brightened with a gay color motif of yellow and white. Ices were served during the afternoon and Miss Whalgren showed the girls the many dainty articles in her trousseau.

Miss Mary Ellen Painter was at home during one evening of vacation to a group of her college friends. The rooms were decorated in pastel shades of pink and white. Special courses in astronomy and pathology were enjoyed to the utmost by those present. Needless to say, refreshments were served by the charming hostess.

The guests included Joyce Glasgow, Ruth Bitney, Billy Ross, Merrill Ginn, Torrey Smith, Lewis Fretz, and Dale Ginn.

Genevieve Bitney spent Easter vacation as guest of Mae Ernst at Oak Harbor.

Eleanore Kenrick was a guest of Esther Graham at St. Johns, Wn. Miss Graham, a graduate of C. P. S., is a member of Lambda Sigma Chi and Amphictyon Literary Society.

The Delta Alpha Gamma girls enjoyed a wonderful week-end, March 28 and 29, at a house party held at Camp Sealth on Vashon Island. The weather was ideal and all the girls were enthusiastic about the camp.

Saturday morning the girls explored the island and found some very interesting spots. Saturday afternoon a group of the girls started out to hike to Burton. They certainly arrived, for the next week, the Burton News had a notice in the society column about the visitors. However they returned in record time and the key to the mystery was missing until some one heard rumors whispered in regard to the wonderful ride. The girls however refused to reveal their entire secret.

Saturday the pledges staged a fashion review. The styles shown depicted the vogue of the year 2000. Very little can be said regarding said show, however clamors were heard in the audience for the styles of the year 3000.

The new members receiving 3rd degree initiation Saturday night could tell if they were mind too, some strange tales of Vashon Island. The table manners which were displayed were said to be from a revised edition of Emily Post. It was hard to determine which enjoyed the show the most, those watching and listening or those "in the act."

The Kappa Sigma Theta sorority entertained the Delta Alpha Gammas and the Lambda Sigma Chis last Wednesday afternoon from 4 to 6 with a delightful tea at the north Kay street home of Nadine Purkey. Other guests of honor were Mrs. Regester, Mrs. Beidleman, Mrs. Lynette Hovius, Miss Doris M.

Birds of a feather may flock together, and again they may not. It all depends upon what is going on, and how the weather is. In this case the weather was most wonderful: sunshine, dry grounds, gentle, perfume-scented spring breezes waited off Mount RAINIER, and all of that kind of stuff,—you know; and that beautiful game called tennis was the thing that was going on.

Percy served a wicked one over the net into Harold's territory and Harold lobbed it back. Percy leaped into the air (he had a hard time doing it but those present said he did) and slashed it back across the net.

Richard, who was playing net, caught the return on the wood of his racket and the ball went out of bound, making the score 15-love in Percy's favor. On the next serve, Richard returned the ball with a difficult back-hand drive, that Percy had a hard time volleying back again. Harold broke the jinx this time and drove the ball into the net, making the score 30-love. Another bad break on the part of Richard, by failing to return Percy's service, made the count stand 40-love. Percy, at this juncture, was sitting on top of the world. Here Percy's service became erratic and both tries went into the net, breaking all chance of the play continuing on as a love game. The Wagon-Tongue reporter, living on love, left the three birds to seek new fields of pasture. It was reported later, however, over leased wire, that Percy, Richard, and Harold were still flocking together about the tennis court at supper time. All records having been destroyed in the recent tornado, the exact date of the happening of the foregoing incident is not available. The Wagon-Tongue was fortunate in procuring this account, and claims it as a scoop over the Trail. This article is of great value to scientists as it helps disprove the proverb that birds of a feather flock together.

Budd, Miss Anna Crapser, Miss Georgia Reneau and Mrs. Freyer.

A color motif of lavender and green, the Theta colors, was daintily carried out with lavender sweet peas. Chairmen on the various committees included Lorene Bonds, Jane Elizabeth Jones, and Ethel Beckman. A short program was also enjoyed with a vocal duet by Helen Adams and Theo Misener, a piano solo by Florence Bronson, a reading by Edith Jones and a solo dance by Flora Ramsey.

Miss Una Stewart will entertain her sorority sisters with a gay beach party at her home in Burton on Vashon Island, Saturday, April 18. The girls will go out on an afternoon boat and return in the evening. Plans are under way for a regular good time and it is with the greatest anticipation that the trip is awaited.

Those in the party will include Una Stewart, Roma Schmid, Catharine Anderson, Billy Van den Steen, Gertrude Mackey, Lorene Bonds, Ethel Beckman, Mildred Forsberg, Evalyn Miller, Amy Dahlgren, Theo Misener, Aileen Somers, Nadine Purkey, Ruth Monroe, Edith Jones, Gladys Carlson, Constance Thayer, Constance Clark, Jane Elizabeth Jones, Margaret O'Conner, Elsie Scheibler, Esther Rarey, Vivian Krusner, Florence Bronson, Eleanor Oats, Margaret Scofield, and Helen Lund.

STOP - LOOK - LISTEN

A matrimonial bureau is now open for business at C. P. S. This matrimonial bureau is the most select of its kind in existence. It is rumored, that many of the members besides being of excellent character are exceptionally beautiful, or handsome as the case might be and also wealthy.

Sis Brewitt conceived and carried out this great work. Its success is second only to its popularity.

Sis Brewitt began her bureau about two weeks before the All College Banquet. With each two tickets sold some dashing young Romeo. Sis generously threw in a beautiful and charming young girl. This of course was in many cases done without the knowledge of the party of the second part; but that is however, a mere matter of no importance whatever.

Miss Brewitt has at this time some excellent material with which to work. She has several colors, shades, sizes, types and qualities in both boy and girl varieties.

A description of some of her better specimens are as follows:

Don Searing, tall, pleasant, a good dancer and neat appearing young man. Don is good for almost any occasion; but is specially fine for a love affair.

Ralph Brown, caveman type, very romantic, good looking, with black hair and big feet.

Genevieve Bitney, the beautiful Spanish type, large black eyes, silken black hair, entrancing lips, very dangerous when around men. Miss Bitney is a fine dancer, and is excellent for any occasion involving a vamp.

Virginia Sehon, beautiful, light brown hair, (lots of it), lovely eyes, fair complexion, excellent for all ball room occasions.

Eugene McCune, small but oh my, well known, as a bear with the women. Good for any occasion needing a lot of pep.

Neva Bailey, fine all round young

LOGGER NINE BLEST WITH MANY VETERANS

BASEBALL TEAM IS ROUNDING INTO SHAPE

Eight Lettermen Back From Last Year's Crack Team
Awaiting First Game

As the first game of the regular schedule draws nearer, Coach McNeal is putting the finishing touches on the team that will uphold the honor of Puget Sound this year on the diamond. With the pitching staff and infield practically intact from last year, a formidable nine will take the field when the season starts.

The biggest problem for "Mac" to solve is whether or not he can develop a high class of outfielders. Harry Enochs and Gard Schuler of last year's team had been counted upon to take care of two of these positions. On account of a technicality Enochs is ineligible and Schuler will probably be unable to play for part of the season because of injuries. Mike Thorniley, "the pride of Des Moines," has been chasing the horsehide in centerfield, and as he raps the sphere quite regularly, he will probably romp in the center garden when the "Ump" cries, "Batter up." Falconer and Leak have been cavorting in the other two positions but are being hard pressed by Samuelson, Ross, Wallers, and Goulder.

Blevins and Guest of last year's team will be depended upon to do most of the twirling with Leak and Sherrick, a first year man, in reserve.

The failure of "Dutch" Allerdice to return to school this year has caused a vacancy behind the bat. Aldrich and Beckman have been doing the pre-season receiving, with Aldrich having a slight edge. With a little more experience Aldrich would be a hard man to oust from the backstop position.

"Mac" has one of the sweetest looking infields that has ever represented Puget Sound. Eddie Schwarz, the South Tacoma star, will hold down the initial sack. While playing for Fern Hill of the city league last year, Schwarz was considered one of the best first basemen in this section. The "keystone" position will probably be played by "Pete" Peterson while "Inky" Hageness, the man behind the brush, is working well at short. The veteran Pete Carl is playing like a big leaguer at third base and it will take an exceptionally good man to dislodge him. Ginn, a first year man, will probably be used in the utility role.

Tennis Team To Be Selected From Tourney

FIRST ROUNDS RUN OFF IN ELIMINATION

Veterans Back to Help Build Strong Team; Smith Is Good

Now, with the first round of the elimination tournament played off, silently, one by one, twinkle the little stars, the wizards of the tennis court. Not only in brilliance do they resemble the stars in the heavens but also in number. Puget Sound is fortunate in having an abundance of unusually promising material, out of which a team should go forth that will add laurels to the College in this branch of athletics and keep pace with the dashingly stride set by our institution in other lines of athletic endeavor. This season it is very likely that some new life will inject itself into the team. Bill Smith bids high for a place. Bill handles the racket with the skill of a veteran and the uncanny accuracy with which he executes his drives makes him a formidable player. Samuelson, who was on the Pacific Lutheran team, is also making competition keen. Neil McDougall looks every inch a player with his extended ability to cover the court he should give a good account of himself. Then we have Al Hokenson who was a former member of the college tennis team and will no doubt add strength to the racket game here this year. Al is a consistent player and would do credit to any university. Merrill Ginn who was on the team in '23 is again in school and is determined on duplicating his record. From last year's team we have respectively Goore, Johnson, Falconer and Newell who are players of exceptional caliber and experience and are not in a mood to relinquish any rights unless the goods are produced in real convincing style. A battle royal is predicted in the second tournament which will be the deciding factor in placing the men in their respective places on the team. Already prospects of a good team and of a tennis trip have furnished the inclination for hard daily workouts of the aspirants, which is very gratifying and insures that they will be at their best when put to the test. May the best man win.

The results of the tournaments so far are as follows: Goore defeated White by default; Higdon defeated Prof. Hedley 6-2, 6-3; Prof. Seward defeated Prof. Topping 6-0, 6-1; Moore defeated Bud Harris 6-2, 6-4; Merrill Ginn defeated Ed Schwarz by default; Al Hokenson defeated Al Wetmore 6-1, 6-1; Molly Jacobson defeated Nelson 6-1, 6-0; Al Samuelson defeated Otis Smith 6-2, 6-3; Van Devanter drew a bye; Falconer defeated Dale Ginn 6-4, 6-3; McDougall defeated Geo. Durkee 6-1, 6-2; Newell defeated Goulder by default; Johnson defeated "Horse" Blevins 6-2, 6-2; Yost defeated McCune 6-0, 6-2; Thorniley defeated Ralph Brown in one set 6-4; Bill Smith defeated Edison Brown by default.

The girls matches have not been played off to date, but it is rumored that there are lady players of no mean ability in our midst which should make the tournament interesting.

DELTA KAPPA PHI AND VACATION

Last Thursday afternoon (and evening) twenty couples, including Doctor and Mrs. Gammon and Professors Topping and Budd journeyed to the popular "Chicken Dinner" resort, Canyada Lodge. The appetites of the group were whetted up during the early evening by hair-raising explorations of the nearby gorge. Fortunately none of the frivolous explorers leaned over too far.

After the heartily enjoyed dinner a brief recreation period was enjoyed, followed by a trip to the lower regions. The transportation, however, was not of the kind that satan had in Milton's "Paradise Lost." Of course there were the customary, "what's this?" "What is that for?" "How does that thing work?" and "Would this shock me if I touch it?" expressions. Certainly anyone of the crowd could tell where Tacoma's electricity comes from now.

As midnight drew near, the curious minds became sufficiently satisfied to allow thoughts of home

Huskies Continue to Dominate Over Eight-Oared Crews

California Threatens to Take Championship From Wash.
in Near Future

Sport editors the nation over are singing the praises of the champion University of Washington crew. Last Saturday the Purple and Gold swept to a glorious victory over the mighty Golden Bear and the chances are better than an even break that it will again cross the line at Poughkeepsie ahead of the best in the nation. How long the Huskies will continue to hold the national championship, no one knows, but it is known that the University of California freshman shell defeated the Washington babes by a fair margin. What significance that means is a matter of speculation that is already causing the wiser of the wise-crackers to advance the opinion that the Golden Bear may replace Washington as the National champs in a very short while.

The opinion is fast gaining headway and it has good reason to do so. Next year those freshmen will be transferred to the varsity shell almost man for man, for most of this year's varsity oarsmen are graduating. The Frosh are better than the Varsity and would probably replace them in any event. At Washington almost the entire varsity shell will have to be filled by this year's freshman next season. So there you are. Dope it out any way you like and it must be confessed that California is going to figure strongly from next spring on.

California comes up and rows on Lake Washington next April so that Washington will be pulling over its home course. That will be of advantage to the Huskies, and Rusty Callow should be thankful for that. Washington men are at California coaching the Washington stroke, it is being taught in the largest schools of the East too. Washington must remain supreme upon the waters. Heritage demands it.

and rest to enter. As a result flivvers and cars began to hum Tacoma-ward.

The trip certainly was enjoyable and there is a stronger desire among Delta Kappas than ever before, to make the yearly trip to Canyada a tradition of the fraternity.

Those present were Misses Hilda Melin, Billie McMurry, Genevieve Biney, Gladys Waters, Gertrude Hess, Marlon Bechaud, Sarah Hart, Mildred Hawksworth, Erma Coffman, Norma Huseby, Elizabeth Pugh, Ruth Chittenden, Mary Ellen Painter, Laverne Brannon, Marie McNannama, Mabel Brumstad, Wilhelmina Van den Steen, Florence Cogswell and Prof. Doris Budd. The young men were Gordon Gradbury, Clarence Halverson, Donald Searing, Somers Sleep, Lloyd Hague, Francis "Doc" Gammon, Lorin Lindstrom, David Taff, Bronson Smith, Franklin Johnson, Rolla Halbert, Ensey Llewellyn, Sam Pugh, John Cox, Edwin Newell, Lynn Loughheed, Hale Niman, George Sherril, and Professor Topping.

PROSPECTS IN TRACK NOT ENCOURAGING

By Sam Pugh

The prospects for a good track team at Puget Sound this year are poor—very poor—unless some good material begins training at once. "A pessimistic attitude," says someone. But what other attitude could one have when there seems to be so few interested in upholding the honor of Puget Sound. To be sure, a few of the men have been working faithfully, but with the exception of Captain Ted Upton, a man of experience, all is green material.

Coach McNeal, in discussing the prospects of a track team, said that the college could not have a team with the material now on hand. But the men are still turning out—about four of them. They are training for the big relay carnival to be held in Seattle May 2. Upton and his cohorts are planning to enter the medley relay. The men who will probably run in this race, unless better men will take their places, are: Sam Pugh, 220 yard dash; Mark White, 440 yard distance; Lorin Lindstrom, half mile; and Captain Ted Upton, the three-quarter mile jaunt.

The new track has been layed, and is in fair condition. It is suitable for practice but until a cinder or some other finished surface has been applied no records will be broken or equalled. The track as it is, is serving the cinder shiks well. It is a one-quarter mile track.

Coach "Mac" at gym: What are you playing, children?

Neil McD.: We're playing "putcher," coach. Lloyd, putcher card down.

McNEAL TURNS SUIT DESIGNER FOR BALL TEAM

College Emblem and Colors Artistically Worked Into Suits

By Otis Smith

"Mac" has proven himself to be more than an athletic coach. The designing of the new baseball suits for the 1925 season was left in the hands of coach McNeal and while he does not claim to be anything more than an athletic coach, it can easily be seen from the completed product that he is no back number when it comes to designing baseball suits.

The shirts are made of heavy, durable, white flannel, edged with a narrow strip of maroon braid. On the left side is the college emblem, a log with a double-bitted axe embedded in it, and on the left arm the letters "C. P. S." stand out prominently. The trousers are of the same material with a strip of braid down the seam. The socks are half white and half maroon and the caps are designed to match the suits. A black leather belt completes the suit which, taken altogether, would be very hard to improve upon.

The last Friday before vacation during student assembly the Ladies of the Splinter gave an exhibition in which they wore the new suits. Everyone who saw them is forced to admit that they are as classy a layout as ever graced a baseball team.

THIS EDITION

This is the second annual Frosh Edition of The Puget Sound Trail. We say it is annual because we want to establish the publishing of one issue of this paper by the Freshman Class as a custom. The Freshman Class set a precedent last year by editing their edition. The entire staff was made up of members of the Freshman Class, and this year we are following their example.

It is a custom we believe will go a long way in helping to build-up traditions here at the College of Puget Sound. It is the idea of giving the Freshman Class each year a definite responsibility by placing it in full control of one branch of associated student activity.

The Frosh Edition is one of the two or three chances throughout the college year when the freshmen have an opportunity to show their ability. We have strived to edit this edition to the best of our ability. We have tried to make this edition a true chronicle of the possibilities of our class in the journalistic department of the college activities. But most of all we have endeavored to edit this Frosh Edition in a fashion that will be a challenge to the freshmen of next year to carry on the custom established by last year's Freshman Class.—P. W.

TOO MUCH ATHLETICS?

Often we hear the old statement that our colleges devote too much time to athletics and not enough to regular scholastic work. We often hear it said that the student with the high marks deserves more credit than the student-athlete does. But does he? Stop and consider for a moment. Which of the two types are more typically American, the student who spends his days digging knowledge out of books, allowing himself no time for anything else, or the student who gets his lessons and finds time to play besides?

Is it not the spirit of play that has made America great? Not play, merely to be playing, but playing to win. Has not her greatness been a play to win against great odds? Knowledge alone could not win our battles. It was knowledge and play that brought success to our arms. It was the spirit of playing to win that sent the pioneers, first to America, and then to build our great cities. That same spirit of playing the game fair and playing it to win has gained for America the respect of the world.

That spirit which is so typically American has earned for itself a place in our colleges and universities, and the man who carries on in that spirit on the field deserves the place he holds in our institutions of learning.

DRAMA CLASS PRESENTS PLAYS NEXT FRIDAY

Next Friday, April 24, the Literary Interpretation classes of the Public Speaking department of the College are going to present a group of one-act plays. The casts are spending a great amount of time upon the plays, and from all indications the program will be a decided success.

The casts of the plays are working out all problems connected with the plays, such as lighting, staging, setting, and costuming. The plays therefore, while acting as an entertainment for the audience, are aiding the members of the class, who have been selected for the position by Mrs. Hovious, instructor of the classes.

The plays to be presented are "Deceivers," a clever skit by William C. DeMille; "Op 'O Me Thumb," an English play by Fenn and Pryce; "The Mayor and the Manicure," a comical blackmail story by George Ade; "The Flower of Yeddo," a play of old China by Victor Mapes.

The members of the classes who will appear in the plays are: Nadine Purkey, Florence Witenberg, Hilda Rasmussen, Rosemary Widman, Elizabeth Waller, Edson Brown, Roy Owens, Hazel Olson, Douglas Wight, Roma Schmidt, Ernest Miller, Bronson, Billy Ross, Vella Tolles, Constance Clark, Alice Oskness, Edith Jones and Richard Jones. Those directing plays are Wendell Brown, Helen Small and Florence Witenberg.

Anyone wishing tickets for the plays can get them from any member of the group given above.

THETA ALPHA PHI MEMBERSHIP NOW OPEN

As the end of the semester draws near the members of Theta Alpha Phi begin to look for those students who are followers of the drama, to file their applications for admission to Theta Alpha Phi, the national honorary dramatic fraternity. All students who are passing in the required 12 hours and have taken part in any way in any of the plays produced this year or will be produced are eligible to file.

Following are the requirements for application to membership: 1. A lead in two full length plays. (three act, or more) 2. Director of publicly produced play. 3. Stage manager, electrician, property manager, business manager for two full length plays. 4. Write and have produced an original one-act play.

It is necessary to have two complete majors for membership. Two one-act plays shall count as one long play. A lead in four one-act plays shall be considered as a lead in two long plays or as stage hands, assistants to electrician, property manager, and business manager, shall be counted. It requires eight minors to make two majors.

If you are intending to file for membership do so by April 24. Write out what you have done and see that Ed Newell or Miss Lynette Hovious has it by that date.

If you have already handed in your credentials, do so again to make sure the proper ones have it.

No, Oscar, the grass was sown by the gardeners and not by the girls sewing club.

AMPHICTYON

Coming as a complete surprise to Amphictyons and their friends Monday evening was the announcement of a very short program. Miss Ina Hagedorn displayed her splendid intelligence in a talk on Bobbie Burns, Junior; and the ladies quartet consisting of Miss Elmira Carlson, Miss Genevieve Bitney, Miss Alice Rochill, and Miss Marilyn Ginn went two old faithfuls. Miss Helen Olson stretched her imagination to show us what Shakespeare would think of us.

Miss Catherine Hammerly rebounded beautifully to the announcement of an extempo piano solo. Mr. LeRoy Browning and Mr. Ed Miller did their utmost to entertain fellow Amphics by pantomiming, "To a Mouse."

ALTRURIAN

Spring and its many aspects was the subject of the program given Monday evening at Altrurian.

PHILOMATHEAN

Your prophesy was correct Prof. Hanawalt, those moonlight nights were wonderful (or heavenly). Just ask Ed. Poluvius didn't even intimate giving us some of his attention, so old faithful "Sol" smiled upon us.

The Philomathean Literary Society spent a memorable week-end at Silcox Island, the House Party starting Saturday evening at 10 o'clock and continuing through the 5th and 6th.

Sunday was spent in exploring all the little nooks and crooks around the lake via both land and water and both intention and unintentional swimming was indulged in. Sunday night Vespers Services were held around the outdoor fire place. There was music and several speeches after which came a marsh-mellow roast.

The necessities of life were un-Just ask any Philomathean. If any person wishes a delightful breakfast of pancakes, Leo Durkee will tell you what proportions to use.

As for sleep, two winks is enough for any one. Even the chaperons Mr. and Mrs. McMillen and Mr. and Mrs. Hanson will verify this statement; especially if there is a week of vacation to snooze through.

After putting a monkey wrench in the piano pleasing music was rendered.

Variety is the spice of life they say and the good times were certainly well seasoned, with ducklings, wet feet, etc. Advice from Philomatheans: Always take a change of clothing on a houseparty if you intend to indulge in canoeing, especially if one is not expert in the art of balancing. Also to Margaret J., please refrain from giving vent to your affinity for fish, the best way to catch them is with a hook and line.

With many sighs and happy laughs the "Philos" broke camp and after missing cars, finally landed safely home. The Philomatheans who were unable to attend have missed a very enjoyable and happy time. We sincerely hope that you will be able to go next time. Yes, Mr. Slater, we missed you too.

The following program was given at Philo last Monday:

April Foolishness
Why April Fool?, M. Hague.
Proverbial Foolishness, T. Upton.
April in Verse, A. Oskness.
Piano Solo, P. Lung.
Original Story, G. Waters.
April Showers, A. Harris.
Extempo—No Foolin', F. Meader.
Everyone enjoyed the program—No Foolin'.

Next week we are going to study the lives and works of some "Interesting Women."

TAMANAWAS PROMISES TO BE BEST SO FAR

Work on the 1925 Tamanawas is being rapidly accomplished. The editor, Erma Eagan, is kept busy endeavoring to make this issue better than any of the preceding annuals. There does seem to be some hope of reaching this goal, too, for each department editor is doing his best to bring his part of the work up to as near perfection as possible.

According to Don Wellman, business manager, it is hoped that the Tamanawas may be out by the middle of next month.

TODD COMPLETING CAMPAIGN

ment. This was completed April 14, 1921.

In this last campaign over $200,000 were taken in estate notes that were payable at the death of makers out of their estates. These were all passed upon by eminent lawyers as legally valid subscriptions.

In May 1921, Dr. Wallace Butler, president of the Rockefeller Foundation, and Dr. Arnett, secretary, visited the College and inspected the financial and academic conditions of the institution which lead to an offer by the Board of $25,000 on condition that the College would raise $250,000 more for endowment in legally valid subscriptions to be added to the amount already subscribed in 1921. This was completed on date set when more than $250,000 were subscribed.

When the College reported to the officers of the foundation they ruled that the estate notes would not apply, not because they were not legally valid subscriptions but that they did not have a due date falling within the term when final settlement was to be made. Instead of withdrawing their challenge they extended the time two years in which to complete subscriptions which would fall due within five years. So this is practically a continuation of the campaign of 1922.

The amount required to be raised was $125,000.

The reason for the foundation giving the College two years was on account of the new buildings that were to be built.

After the College has made good and completed the campaign it will be reported to the foundation and the College will be entitled to receive about $85,000. When this $85,000 is paid the College the income from it will give $4,000 to $4,500 for each year's work.

This has all meant lots of hard work for Dr. Todd. He has had to travel almost constantly and work day and night in order to put the campaign over in good shape.

There has been a rumor about the school to the effect that the library clock will be set right by Monday.

When the matter was taken up with one of the librarian's assistants no information could be gained. When she was asked why a clock was placed in the library she informed us that it was so far behind time that there was no other place they could put it.

After several hours of hunting the janitor was located. He could shed no light on the matter, as he was not aware of the fact that there was a clock in the library.

Prof. Hanawalt, whose interest has been aroused in the clock, has figured it out that the present rate the clock is gaining, it will be correct at 3:15 p. m. Thursday of the third week of the eleventh month of the year 1943.

This is causing a great deal of comment, as the clock is only guaranteed to keep time until 1942.

The matter is to be taken up at the next student assembly at which time it is hoped there will be some action taken.

This is Campus Day for more than Puget Sound. April 17th is to be celebrated as Campus Day by Spokane College and Ellensburg Normal School as well as here.

These two colleges will spend the day in the same manner as Puget Sound is with a general cleaning up and improvement of the campus, athletic contests and evening frolics.

Thrills, smiles and tears, intermingled upon a background of marvelous scenic beauty, struggle for predominance in J. K. McDonald's First National picture, "Frivolous Sal," showing Friday and Saturday at the Proctor Street Blue Mouse.

There are many reasons why the picture is worth seeing. Such scenery has seldom been shown in motion pictures before. It is too beautiful for description.

Rhodes Brothers

Broadway - Eleventh - Market

Why I Like to Trade at Rhodes Brothers

By Alice Rockhill

Did you ever see that familiar sign, "All roads lead to Rhodes?" Did you ever think of its significance, just what some of those highways are?

First, there is the road of courtesy. This leads straight to the important unit in every store, the clerk. Don't you find all the salespeople courteous at Rhodes? I do. Most of them are kind and sympathetic, ready to help and make suggestions. They are quick, efficient and willing. Their assistance makes shopping a pleasure.

Then there is the road of quality. Everyone appreciates and wants good quality in their purchases. When we trade at Rhodes we are sure of the type of merchandise we are receiving. We know the quality is good.

There is also the road of arrangement and artistry. Don't you hate to go into a store where everything is displayed in a slipshod, junky fashion? The clerks seem uninterested because they never can find anything. You wait patiently a while, then leave, disgusted. Doesn't it rest you then to go into a place like Rhodes, where things are displayed artistically and the whole place emanates an atmosphere of refinement and good taste? Most people appreciate it and are proud to say, "Oh yes, I got this at Rhodes."

Last of all is the road of economy, that highway which most of us have to follow pretty closely. If we are not side-tracked it will lead us to the front door of Rhodes Brothers Department Store. Economy at Rhodes doesn't mean a cheap price, it means a reasonable price for a good article.

Thus we have the four roadways, courtesy, quality, artistry and economy, all leading to Rhodes. Isn't that enough to make anyone want to trade there?

NOTE: This paper was selected from among a number submitted by Students of the College of Puget Sound as the best expression of what Rhodes Service means.
